

Dr. Kwanghui Lim: <http://kwanghui.com>

Kwanghui Lim is a Senior Lecturer at Melbourne Business School, Associate Director at IPRIA and Research Associate at CITE. Kwanghui's research explores the strategies used by firms to manage intellectual property and the commercialisation process. His doctoral thesis at MIT won the Academy of Management and INFORMS Best Dissertation Award (2001) in the Technology Management area, as well as the 2001 Richard R. Nelson Best Dissertation Award. Prior to joining Melbourne Business School, Kwanghui was an Assistant Professor at the National University of Singapore. He founded the NUS-MBS Patent Database which is used at various universities around the world for academic research. He has conducted workshops and seminars for the World Intellectual Property Organization, Intellectual Property Office of Singapore and 3M-NUS innovation Program for School Teachers. Kwanghui's industry experience includes consulting experience at Booz Allen & Hamilton.